Camp Smith

Nashville, Tenn.

Dear Cousin,

I received yours of the thirteenth this forenoon and hasten to reply. I had come to the conclusion that my friends had forgotten me or did not think me worthy of the precious sheet of paper and the time it would take to fill it, but perhaps not so. Well, Bettie, the old section had reenlisted and were on their way home and were ordered back again, then the boys got on a spree and got the papers and tore them up and swore they would serve their little six months and then quit. I think their heads are round, dont you?

Eighty of the boys have volunteered under the promise of a commission to go in to South Carolina for the purpose of bringing out a regiment of men who want to go into the union army. I would like to have had the chance to go with them, not that I want a commission, but to see the country. I would not have a commission in this army, but if I live to get out this time and the United States makes war on the old countries, I want to be Major General, Sutler, a negro or a dog, but enough of that.

Well Bettie, you said that you wanted to know what I thought of the war by this time. I think it bilious, I think the hard fighting will be done this Spring. One or two more fights and I think will settle the question. I just received a letter from Thomas. He is well, he writes that they have had nine fights with the rebels and all came out safe with the exception of Corp. Kelly. He was shot in the mouth, fracturing

DIARY OF JAMES W. DANIELS, IRONTON, LAWRENCE CO. OHIO.

I, James W. Daniels joined the 4th regiment of Ohio volunteer cavalry on the 13th day of September 1861. Served under Capt. H. C. Rodgers of Co I. Col John Kennett regimental commander. The regiment was recruited in camp Gurley, four miles from Cincinnati We were subjected to a rigid course of drilling which is so necessary to render troops (particularly cavalry troops) efficient in service.

Our company election took place October 5th, We remained in Camp Gurley until winter set in when we moved to Camp Dennison. Monday Nov. 18th. We found Camp Dennison a very comfortable camp, having houses for our accommodation, sufficiently large to admit our drilling in them in bad weather, but our horses were poorly provided for. They had to stand in mud up to their knees. Our drills continued here without intermission, until we received our marching orders which were on Dec. 6th at four o'clock in the morning.

We marched in to Cincinnati where we took steamboat for Louisville expecting to be marched into Kentucky and go into active service, but we had no sooner landed than we were ordered over on the Ohio or rather the Indiana side of the river to go into Camp Kennett as this camp was called . It was beautifully situated three miles from Jeffersonville and back of it. Considering the lateness of the season we had beautiful weather while we remained in this camp and during our stay here we had several regimental parades. One through the streets of Louisville and several in Jeffersonville and New Albany. We received our marching orders for Kentucky on the 23th of Dec. Crossed the Ohio at Louisville took his jaw. This is all the news.I have left the hospital on the 27th ult. and came to this camp. I cant say how long I will stay here. My health is good as it ever was. The weather is fine like Spring. I want you to write as soon as you get this and give me all the news. When this comes to hand , I hope it may find you and the rest of the friends well. My love to you and Leonard and well wishes to all who may inquire after me . No more at the present only remain your friend and cousin.

To Bettie Galey

The cave was so called because a horse at one time fell off the perpendicular bluff which overhangs the cave and was killed.

Friday 14th, after a cold windy night the coldest we had yet experienced and that reminds me of the Battle of Fort Donnellson and the 14th was the second or third day of the fight and our poor soldiers had thrown off their superfluous duds the day before and he slept or lay on their arms that night- the coldest night of the winter; in the meantime Halleck with his whole force had previously attacked the rebels at Fort Donnelson. That is previously to our division having moved; the army in Boling Green in fear of being cut off at Nashville. Retreated precipitately to Nashville. Crossed the Tennessee river and burnt both bridges one of which was partly owned by the rebel General Zollicoffer. I am told was all his widow and daughters possessed for support.

Our division under General Mitchell did nothing therefore but possessed ourselves of Boling Green, after General Grant had scared them out of it. We passed on to overtake our regiment but did not succeed until night. We camped on the bank of Barren river opposite Boling Green. The next day(Saturday) we crossed over to Boling Green and stabled our horses and found first rate quarters for ourselves. We were interrupted in our sleep by a big fire. I ran out in the street to ascertain what building was on fire. I found it was a row of buildings in front of our stable. We fell to work and succeeded in putting out the fire, not however before several buildings were burned to the ground.

Saturday 15. We crossed the river and took-------- Sunday 16. We took a scout out on the pike as far as Shakertown, some 18 miles from Boling Green . We destroyed 60 or 75 yds. of R.R. tract and two small bridges, say 15 or 20 feet span.

the Lebanon road passed McWashington, camped on river, crossed Nelsons fork, passed through Bardstown. Jan. first, travelled hard all day passed through New Haven, Roling fork, encamped near Nolin Creek and finally arrived at Bacon Creek on the Nashville and Louisville R.R. and seven miles from Munfordsville. While encamped at Bacon Creek, we were kept drilling continually and through mud, knee deep. We had no shelter for our horses and they had to stand in mud & This brought on the scratches grease heel and other diseases so that by the time we left this camp our company would average each about thirty serviceable horses. We were continually scouting. Our company took a scout to Green river and encamped on its banks. This being the most extensive scout at this time that had been made by our regiment or any other. Just before our division moved, a curtail of four companies were made for a more extensive scout on Green river. It was here that rebels were seen frequently on our side of the river and that they were making a flat bottomed ferry boat so as to facilitate their crossing and recrossing the river. The scout was intended to destroy the boat and kill or capture any roving scouting parties that might be lurking about. The companies detailed for this were Co. A 30 men CoF. 33, Co C 30, Co. I 34, this came on the 7th. Nothing transpired of note during our absence. The division moved for Boling Green on the 10th .

On our return to Bacon Creek and when within seven miles from Camp we heard the news of the division having moved, We took the Munfordsville road arrived there about or a little before sundown in the evening on the 13th. We heard they had gone on to Boling Green. We pushed on to Horse cave where we encamped for the night. This village derived its name from a cave. The mouth of which opens on the road side as you pass through the village.

opposite Nashville on the Tennessee river which was on Monday Feb. 24th . The 23rd our last days march was through one continuous rain. We encamped in a farm yard and slept in a stable bed(drenched through with rain) on corn fodder. We were aroused at 3 O'clock to get out our horses by Capt Rodgers to go to Edgefield. We got into Edgefield at daybreak, Rode down to the river found both bridges were destroyed by the rebels on their retreat. We also saw 40 or 50 of Col. Forests cavalry, also a few of the Texan rangers who remainded in the place, but as both bridges were down we were perfectly safe; though had there been any way of crossing they, would have come over and gobbled us up, as we did not number but 32 men. They had a steam ferry boat which we nailed on this side of the river and tied up. We placed a guard over her and returned to town where the people were anxiously awaiting with eager curiosity to see us. Several ladies raised the windows and hurrah for the yankees. They gave us our breakfast (the citizens I mean) and in every way treated with the most generous hospitality .

Feb. 26th. Buell's whole army crossed the Tennessee river into Nashville and encamped out on the Nashville and Murfreesboro road, Our cavalry regiment encamped 6 miles beyond any other troops which to me looked like a d-d fool operation considering we had nothing in the way of arms, but sabers and each man had one colt navy revolver and a few cartridges of inferior quality. Our pickets were fired into on the first night of our encampment by Morgan's men. We dropped back to the lunatic asylum and sent into Nashville for one piece of artillery. We moved out to camp and encamped for the night.

Expedition to Murfressboro. One regiment infantry, two piece of artillery and a part of our cavalry. Unfortunately for us

The Shakers in Shakertown are a very hospitable people and treated us with great kindness. We saw one gentleman(a Shaker) who had just returned from Nashville. He said there were no troops on the road between us and Nashville with the exception of a company(or part of a company) of infantry recruited by Capt. Hach. We returned to camp that night, the distance from Boling Green to Shaker Quakertown is 18 miles. Capt. Hach company was then in (or near) Russellville about 30 miles from Boling Green.

February 18. Expedition to Russellville for Capt. Hach. We had about 90 or 100 men. We arrived at his house about 4 miles from Russellville and awakened his family, but could get nothing out of them. We arrived at Russellville just at the break of day. There were no troops in the place. We remained in it until night and started for camp. It is due the credit of the company to say that we had not slept any that day or the night before, as we had started just in the eve on the 18th and we were obliged to travel all night and in the rain having received orders from Col. Kennett to return immediately. We struck the Lousville and Nashville turnpike just about 10 A.M. Feb. 19th were told the whole division had moved on to Nashville. The weather had turned extremely cold. We were drenched to the skin, our feet wet. It had stopped raining and was now snowing and a cold wind drifting it in our faces. We overtook our regiment out on the road about 15 miles;here they had encamped our company.CO.I had been detailed and distributed all along the road to guard the houses of rich secessionist. Myself and two others were the only ones from our company who were out on this expedition.

February 21st. Marching orders for Nashville and so we continued until we arrived 10 miles from the town of Edgefield just occupied Athens with about 250 or 300 infantry with about 35 of the 4th Ohio cavalry , Capt R. E. Rodgers. On the first of May, Col. Scotts Louisiana cavalry crossed Elk river at a ford about 16 miles from Athens advanced on that place with about 600 mounted men and 2 pieces of artillery. Drove the pickets in and caused the Federal troops to evacuate Athens and retreat . Col. Stanley having first feceived orders to do so by Gen. Mitchell.

Huntsville was in an uproar, our cavalry ordered out and we numbered about 130 men, also about 300 infantry were ordered out. We took the cars and went down the railroad about 15 miles to some station. We all got out here. Formed and moved on to Athens, ~~some~~ We being in the advance cavalry. Soon met Col. Stanley's men in their baggage wagons retreating. We pushed on until night overtook us about three miles from Athens. We camped for the night. Early in the morning we again moved, crossed through Athens, ~~Heard~~ the enemy had retreated toward Elk river. We hurried on ~~on~~ at double quick to cut off their retreat and bag the whole of them or defeat them at least if possible on the route . Struggled about 300 yards behind and were gobbled up, their arms taken from them. They were released however and returned to us and were laughed at by the boys. We finally overtook them on the bank of Elk river. They were ferrying to the other side as fast as possible. They had a flat boat for this purpose. There was but 75 or 80 men on this side of the river when we made our appearance. One piece remained of artillery on our side and the other piece had been ferried over. They (as I said before) were on the bank of the river. The river bank was flat and marshy and thickly covered with timber and underbush; besides a large slough run, or stood we met Capt Morgan with six men bearing a flag of truce. He had a couple of our prisoners which he wished to exchange . He also bore a dispatch from Gen. Hardee ordering Gen. Buell's forces out of Tenn. within ten days. This was a hoax , Morgan's object being to cause a delay and postponement of this expedition. We moved to Murfreesboro. Moved to Shelbyville where our company was detailed to guard R.R. bridges. At Wartrace a station on the N. and Chattanooga R.R., we remained at the place about ten days when we were ordered out to Shelbyville. Some infantry took our place at Wartrace and on the next night after our having left, they were attacked by about four hundred cavalry and narrowly escaped being cut to pieces and taken prisoners. Through inexperience or inefficiency of their officers, they however repulsed the enemy and killed and wounded ten of them. Our loss did not exceed three or four men. Our army moved the next day, after return to Shelbyville and thence to Huntsville. While at Huntsville, we saw considerable hard service being constantly scouting. When we first came to the place there were no bushwhackers in the country. They soon organized regular bands of Bushwhackers, watching every opportunity to do mischief; firing into the railroad cars, running from Huntsville to Bellfonte station and to Stevenson. The Cumberland mountains afforded extreme protection for them; our scouting party were often fired into by them in ambush and always in a place where it was impossible to pursue them on horseback, owing to the perpendicular character of the base of the mountains.

We got into a nasty little fight at Elk river about sixteen miles from Athens and about 40 miles southwest from Huntsville. The circumstances were as follows. Col. Stanley in attempting to swim the river.

May 5th. Capt. Rodgers with 16 men of his company went on an excusion for the purpose of arresting several spies who had been lurking around Huntsvilleand furnishing information to the enemy. They encamped the evening of the first day at Larkinsville. The second day at Paine Rock Bridge, The morning of the third day they struck out for Vienna a distance of 15 miles.(This was on the 6th) By misrepresentations of the farmer, which were intentional of course, the squad was the entire day getting into Vienna , having to swim Paine Rock three times and crossed any quanity of mountains They had also taken several prisoners. Seven in number I believe. Several of them had shot guns on their shoulders. They were all mounted. They finally reached Vienna(or the Creek one mile beyond) just by sun-down . They were forded across in a flat boat. The prisoners being in the advance. They were very anxious to be placed in the rear for said they ,"there is a squad of Morgans men somewhere about and they were afraid of being fired into and killed without being able to avenge themselves.

They had proceeded but a short distance when they were fired on and sure enough and by about 30 men . Our boys returned their fire. They fled to the woods , Our men on approaching Vienna discovered the place to be full of men in citizens dress They were armed with shot guns mostly. Our boys fired a couple of rounds at them when they scattered, some of them ran in the houses Our boys charged through the place shooting several man and horses in their passage through. The party who first fired on them joined the reserve to which they belonged. They then came around and tried to intersect our boys but they were toolate to accomplish this between us and the enemy which rendered it impossible to get at them. We had to pass through a cornfield in order to attack them in front, This field was free from timber or anything that would serve to screen us from the enemy and was a gradual gentle slope of 600 yards from us to them. When we came on them, they were dismounted and behind trees. When we came on them our Col without the least hestitation formed us in two battalion or squadrons(one in the rear of the other) and while we were forming and marching on them over at least 300 or 400 yards we were subjected to the most galling fire . Every bullet passing through 4 ranks for the 2nd platoon. The bullets whistled through our very hair, our canteens. Bridle reins were cut by a bullet. Capt King of Co H. received a bullet through the center of his hat, about one half inch above his head and many others escaped in a miraculous manner. The enemy on the other side were poring their bullets into us for the river was but 50 yards wide. They played one piece of artillery on us, also. We charged on them and found it was impossible to get at them for the slough. We finally had to leave the field though we did reluctantly. We fell back got our dinners at a farm house about one mile from the river, after which we moved on and met a detachment of infantry from the 18 Ohio, numbering 200 men also pieces of artillery. Capt. Edminson.

We returned to the river but the enemy had crossed. The artillery fired two or three shots acrossthe river. We afterwards heard that Col. Scott was on the point of surrendering to us. The slough that I spoke of, was all that saved him for although we were right upon them we were prevented from getting at them by it. We killed three of them and scared several so bad that they either drowned their horses or were drowned themselves, see one or more. I will however mention that their number when first seen was about 30 men , about one third our number. We fired them in this way until we reached the hill which overhangs Bridgeport, when we were fired into by about 80 or 100 cavalry. We replied to them and discovered several companies of infantry ambushed, also about 75 cavalry drawn up in line waiting for us. We now drew up in line waiting for the infantry to make its appearance and they charge on them having found out that we could make nothing with them by skirmishing . We had already exchanged several volleys and lost two horses and had one man badly wounded when we heard a cannonading up towards camp. We knew they were shelling our infantry who were in the fortifications we accordingly drew off and returned to camp, but could not render any service to the infantry who were obliged to leave their fortification.

We took our positions in a grove below our camp. The enemy continued shelling us all day with four pieces of artillery until night when we harnessed our horses , destroyed all commissary store and evacuated the place under a galling fire of shot shell and escaped and lost three men and 11 wounded we also lost several horses.

Thursday August 28.

After running the gauntlet at battle. We took the Winchester road for Deckord. Travelled all day, encamped about 8 miles from the Cowan station on the N.S.C. railroad.

Friday Aug 29.

Moved on early in the morning. Stopped and breakfasted about three miles from Deckord and Winchester and encamped in the suburbs of Winchester.

Saturday Aug. 30

Were ordered to report at Deckord to act as wagon

Marched from Battle Creek, Tenn. to reinforce Gen. Nelson near Chattanooga. They were unable to go however, the enemy having blockaded the valley(Sequachie) with obstacles as to render it impossible . Meanwhile Brigadier General Sill was left in command of Battle Creek with the 2nd and 33rd Ohio regiment also a detachment of the fourth Ohio cavalry.

Wednesday Aug. 27, 1862.

Subsequent to the above the second Ohio regiment was ordered from Battle Creek leaving the 3rd infantry and our cavalry numbering about 120 . The rebels had given us no trouble until the 27th. On the morning of the 27th, however 3 or 4 of our teams were sent to Bridgeport,for some bailed hay which had been left behind by the troops who had evacuated it. The escort or wagon guard consisted of infantry numbering about 20 . They were within about 1 and one half mile from Bridgeport when they ran into about 40 rebel cavalry and beleiving they were the advance of a larger force they retreated to camp. Our cavalry were ordered to saddle up and patrol the road to Bridgeport and capture or whip any small force that we might see down-there. There is an island just above Bridgeport(or rather)its head is a short distance above that place(say one half mile) and the Tenn. river at the head of this island is very shallow offering excellent facilities for crossing . We had reasons to believe they (the rebels) had affected a crossing the night previous nor were we mistaken for we had gone about two thirds of the way down when we ran into the cavalry,pickets posted on the road. They fired a volley into us which we replied to and them pursued them. They retreated in great disorder through the bottom which was heavily timbered with underbush and small oak trees. We followed them up, firing into them whenever we could

Sept. 23 Mon. Gen Buell closes in on Bragg finds he has evacuated Munfordsville, our whole army in pursuit. Report says our advance had come up with his rear guard late in the evening and were skirmishing.

Wednesday 25th. We left Bacon Creek in the morning . Ascertained Braggs main army had taken the Hodgersville road on our right. We kept on the Louisville road as far as Elizabeth on our wagons. Kept on to the mouth of Salt river. Our regiment and the 1st Ohio ~~once~~ and 5th Ky regiment of cavalry were detailed to go to Brownsville on Green river to escort a large wagon train from Boling Green. Its probable distination being the mouth of Salt River.

Friday, Oct. 10th. From Sept 25th to Oct 10th, we were kept busy as usual, after leaving Salt river our regiment and the 3rd Ohio cavalry marched for Shepardsville 14 miles from Salt river or West Point which is situated at its mouth ; from there to Shelbyville Ky. then to Frankford. Our advance ran into Col. Scotts Louisiana cavalry who had burned the railroad bridge and were working on the Farmers bridge- quite a little skirmish resulting in our advance driving them from the bridge and from town; it was here that Jim Stece of Ironton was shot in the leg and had his leg amputated below the knee. From Oct 10th up to the 24th we were marching from Frankford to Crab Orchards, stopping at Lawrencebourgh, Harrodsbourgh, Sulvira, Danville and Stanford and retracing our steps back to Lebanon and going to camp 6 miles S.W. of L" In the route we passed through Perryville where the great battle was fought between Braggs army and Gen Rossean. McCook and Jacksons Divisions.

Wednesday Oct. 8th. The fight lasted about five hours guards for the wagons which were going to Shelbyville. The train started at nine o'clock, arrived at Shelbyville on the first of September. The guards left Shelbyville the next morning for Murfreesboro, arrived there in the evening.

Thursday Sept. 11.

We left Nashville starting from our camp the night before. Crossed the Cumberland river at Nashville; our camp was 3 and one half miles above Nashville on the Murfreesboro turnpike and the rebel pickets and ours were in sight. Gen. Thomas's Division has possession of Nashville. He has strongly fortified all commanding points and if attacked will no doubt make a desperate resistance(if not successful), The brigade in advance of ours(Gen. Crittendens) was fired into several times between Nashville and Boling Green by Guerillas.

Sept. 15 We arrived at Boling Green and it was reported the rebels were at Munfordsville under Gen. Bragg and numbering about 60,000 strong.

Sept. 17. Kept busy scouting for small parties of the enemy (our regiment and the 3rd Ohio)(Col. Zahn, a german) having command of both regiments ran in to the enemy's picket and as ascertained that a small force were in Glasgow Ky.. We moved on within 7 miles of the place ascertained. They had two pieces of artillery as they out numbered us we concluded not to go in.

Munfordsville taken by Bragg Co. Wiley Monday 15th 68 Indiana

Sept 18. We returned to Glasgow. The rebels had evacuated that place. We took about 250 or 300 prisoners, mostly sick. We paroled them and left to join our main army at or near Bells Tavern.

Cumberland gap fell into our possession on the 17th day of June. On the 17th day of August the rebels appeared in force and beseiged our forces, exactly one month, drawing their lines closer every day until on the 17th of September it was decided to be folly to think of remaining longer surrounded as our forces were, and no probability of receiving aid. Accordingly the night of the 17thult. was occupied in preparing to evacuate which was accomplished early the following morning by the light of their burning magazines and storehouses, before leaving all the small fire arms and tents, extra baggage and rations together with the magazine and quartermastery Buildings were destroyed by fire, also 4 large seige guns. They left behind in the hospital about 50 sick and on the route gave leaves of absence of 30 days to the same number who gave out from fatigue. They were divided into four brigade. GenSnears' consisting of the 3rd , 4th, 5th and sixth Tennessee ; Gen Bairds consisting of the 33Indiana 14th and 19th Ky. Gen.DeCoursez consisting of the 22Ky. 16th and 42nd Ohio. Gen.Carter consisting of the first and second Tenn. 3rd Ky. and 49th Ind. also the 9th Ohio and 1st Wis. batteries also a part of Col. Mundys cavalry in all amounting to 10,000 . They arrived on the 3rd inst. with a loss of 2 men killed and a few wounded. After a march of 10 days at Greenupsborough a distance of 300 miles? Since their journey was not direct but as follows. Cumberland Ford, Flat-lick, Goose Creek, Salt Works Manchester, Crocker? Hazel Green, "West Liberty and Greyson

June 21st. We took the mountain road the one travlled over by

It appears to be one continuous mountain; the ascending, descending and travel on to summit constitutes two thirds of the entire distancetravelled on the route by us. We reached Winchester about two o'clock at night. I delivered the dispatch on our arrival.

or until night when Bragg fearing the yankees would receive reinforcement ~~he~~ drew off the field. This battle is said to be one of the most hotly contested of the war. it is said that the battle of Shiloh was nothing in comparison to it.

Oct. 25th. Weather cold and windy, having every appearance of rain. It is supposed we will remain in camp for two or three weeks in order to drill the new recruits

Thursday Dec 8th. The paymaster made his appearance in camp and gave us three months pay. Our pay having been running on from the last day of May. So much for the punctuality of the army's pay department. Considerable difficulty accurs frequently in foraging on account of Guerillas and the various detachments of confederate cavalry belonging to Morgan. Starns, Forest, ~~B~~ Bennett and others who are watching all the roads and are ready at all moments to capture all trains(lightly guarded) who might venture too far beyond our lines.

Sunday Dec. 7th. The surrender of the federals at Hartsville consisting of three regiments; viz. 106 and 148 Ohio, 104 Ill., 2nd Ind cavalry. Two pieces 10 pounders artillery, the confederate forces were captured by Morgan and consisted of his own and some of Gen. Bragg army and numbered about 5,000 Our force were captured and paroled 2,106.

The horses and men were very tired. The men slept late, got up about 8 or 9 o'clock , got breakfast about 10 o'clock . I examined the horses found one Stove and we had to leave him behind. He is at J.Kee,Slatters a union man who will take care of him. The others were so jaded that I concluded to lay over and rest them and start back in the morning.

REFERENCE
DO NOT CIRCULATE

I am enclosing two research reports listing the Parke and Vigo County sources I checked for your ancestors as well as several copies. I found some references to Daniels in Vigo County, but the first names were not the ones you mentioned. Your ancestors seem to have stayed in Parke County, but the search is rather confusing as the names Daniel and Daniels were used interchangeably. There were several William Daniels in Parke County, including one who was born about 1800 in Virginia. Your John, Presley, and William were living near each other when the 1850 census was taken. The 1860 census lists a 28 year old William who had a 64 year old Nancy in his household. No doubt he was the youngest son of William Sr. and Nancy. Note that Nancy's age was given as 59 in 1850 and 64 in 1860. The 22 year old William listed on the 1860 census may have been the oldest son of Presley and also the man who married Ally Farr in 1859. John and Presley were living near each other in 1860, but John did not have a son James. Presley had a 12 year old James, and John had a three year old Joseph P. Some of John's and Presley's children are listed in the W.P.A. index to Parke County marriages.

William Sr. was listed in the 1850 census but not in 1860 so he must have died during that time. You might visit the Rockville Public Library and try to locate him in their cemetery index. If you can find an approximate date of death, you can look for a probate record at the courthouse. That should name his heirs and help straighten out the relationships of the various Daniel/Daniels families.

Thanks for the $5.00. It was enough for the copies and postage.

Dear Librarian:

I need some genealogy data. What I have is just pieces & not much links together. Can sending what I have

John William Daniel b I believe 1821. His father was William (probably Presley) Daniel born 1791 in S Carolina. His mother could have been Nancy Reynolds. William was married twice 1st wife unknown. John William had a brother Presley. I have all his data. John William was married at the least twice. In 1844 he married Lavina Lowe born circa 1832 but I don't know which wife she was. John William was the father of James Presley born in Vigo County - Terre Haute) in 1856. What I need is also any information that you happen to have & wish to send on him & his Children as well.

I'm enclosing $5.00 if this isn't enough let me know.

Sincerely Janet Wolfe, RR4, Rockville IN 47872

Dear Sir,

I am trying to find information on my grandmother, Mary Samantha Daniels. She was born Dec 23, 1856 in Terre Haute, Vigo Co. Indiana. Her parents were Jonathan and Nancy Daniels. She married Christopher Columbus Rice but I don't know where or when. I would really like to know more about Jonathan and Nancy but don't know where else to start.

Do you have any of this information or know where else I might write?

Thank you,
Elaine Rice Williamson

After receiving your letter and checking our resources, I came across alot of information on the Daniels family. However, none of it seemed to relate definitely to the Daniels whose names you gave me in your letter.

First of all, we have a 17 page Civil War diary kept by a James W. Daniels, but he was from Ironton, Ohio, and I thought was not in your ancestry.

Secondly, in our surname file we have notes from a book on the Daniels-Daniells family that was published about 1959. However, I did not come across any Jonathan and Nancy Daniels (your great-grandparents). However, since it's quite lengthy, I may have misses seeing their names.

You could write J. Harrison Daniels, Editor, 213 S. Rolling Rd, Catonsville 28, Baltimore, Maryland.

Daniel family notes were (in 1959) published 4 times a year for a subscription price of $2.00. This newsletter (1959) states that a second volume (512 pgs.) had just been published about the Daniels family. Perhaps you might like to inquire about it.

Thirdly, in the 1858 Terre Haute City Directory, which is the oldest, there were 3 Daniels listed: Hartwell, Samuel, and Wesley - all of them plasterers living on 7th St. north of the railroad. But, I did not find any Jonathan Daniels listed in this directory. However, in the 1871-72 City Directory, I did find a listing for a John Daniel (without a final "s").

Most of the local histories mention a Dr. Ebenezer Daniels, who died in Terre Haute in 1847. But, again, I have no proof that he was in your ancestral line.

I would suggest that you have your local library order the 1860 Vigo County, Indiana, Census. This they can obtain by ordering from the National Archives at Fort Worth, Texas. As far as I know it has not been indexed so you would have to go through the Harrison Twp. (city of Terre Haute) microfilm page by page until you found the Daniels. Hopefully they were still living in Terre Haute in 1860!

You might also try to find out if Jonathan Daniels served in the Civil War.

I believe this is all the help I can give you at the present time.

Sincerely,

D. N. Lewis
Special Collections Dep't.

DIED.—At Branford, Connecticut, on the 9th inst., Mrs. Mary Daniels, in the 80th year of her age.

The deceased was one of the earliest inhabitants of this city, having settled here with her first husband, Capt. James Wasson, about 1820. She will be vividly remembered by many of our old citizens, and those of the Wabash Valley generally, as the bustling and popular hostess of the old "Eagle and Lion Tavern," which formerly stood on the southeast corner of First and Main streets, where, for many years, she dispensed a most charming and liberal hospitality. After attaining a handsome competency, her husband and herself retired from their hotel business, and lived for a number of years in the house now occupied by B. Booth, Esq., corner of Sixth and Ohio, where Capt. Wasson died. In 1842 the deceased became the wife of Dr. Ebenezer Daniels, now deceased. In 1852 she removed to Connecticut, and has since resided at Branford.

Mrs. Daniels will be remembered by all her friends and acquaintances as a woman of wonderful energy, and excellent business qualities. She was intelligent, direct and practical in all matters. She was a kind, conscientious, Christian woman, and leaves behind her many friends in our midst, to mourn her decease.

RUTLAND, VERMONT & MORE DANIELS

Records at Rutland, Vt. show that there were other Daniels in the Rutland area and for several years thereafter the family of Nathaniel Daniels, Sr. (1719-1799) was there. The family of Nathaniel Daniels, Sr. of Pomfret, Conn., Worthington, Mass and more particularly was of West Rutland, located there shortly prior to 1790. He (Nathaniel) became a member of the 1st Cong. Ch. of West Rutland in 1788. Records always tell an interesting story, but often leave much to be desired in way of details. These other Daniels could be connected a generation or two back from our Nathaniel, Sr. (1719-1799) with the Dorchester - Milton, Mass. family of Daniels.

Probate Court Records, Vol. 14, pages 29, 43 and 107 dated July 1, Aug. 1 and Dec. 1, 1830 respectively refer to a John Daniels, Estate. His widow is named an ANNA once and AMY another time; also a daughter Villetta Daniels. (This is not the John Daniels with wife, Betsey, see Vol. 1, p. 215, also Vol. 2, p. 95 of "The Daniels-Daniells Family Genealogy").

Deed Book 10, page 110 of Rutland City land deeds show a deed dated June 17, 1816. Grantee:- ELIPHALET DANIELS from John Daniels, Grantor, a part of which reads, "The above land I deed to the said Eliphalet as a compensation for his supporting me and my family".

In another and later deed recorded in Book 14, page 274, but which does not concern the Daniels family, refers to Eliphalet Daniels being from "Windsor, in the county of Ashtabula and state of Ohio".

From, First Old Record Book of West Parish Cong. Church, West Rutland, Vt. are the names of other Daniels. Marriages:

John Daniells and Phebe Miller, Aug. 3, 1796

Lemuel Daniells to Candace Whittaker, Sept. 20, 1801. (Rutland City records give the brides name as Whitain and the date as Dec. 20, 1801).

Statira Daniells to Barton Gorham, Jan. 1, 1809. (Rutland City records gives the grooms name as Gorham Barton).

Baptisms:

Sept. 18, 1807, Phebe B. Daniells; John Daniells, 2nd.

Nov. 20, 1807, Welthy, Mahala, Ruth Miller, children of John Daniels, 2nd.

Has any one any information on these other Daniels or Daniells of Rutland that might idenify them? Your editor will appreciate hearing from anyone concerning their possible identy.

In Greenfield Cemetery, Saratoga Co. N.Y. there is a Nathaniel Daniels, d. Apr. 25, 1855 in his 50th yr., also Clarissa, his wife, d. May 1, 1855. (This is not the Nathaniel Daniels, Jr. who had wife, Esther Lee of Greenfield Center, Saratoga Co. N.Y.) In 1850 Census Greenfield, Saratoga Co. N.Y. is found the following:-

Nathaniel Daniels	age.	45	Mary Daniels	age	16
Clarissa		37	Nathan		10
Phebe		20	Helen		1
Catherine		18

THE REWARD OF PUBLISHING A FAMILY GENEALOGICAL HISTORY

There is no financial gain to be realized from publishing a book on the history and genealogy of a family, such as Vol. 1 or Vol. 2 of The Daniels-Daniells Family. Although there undoubtedly are those who are of the opinion that there certainly must be. The reason or reasons are much greater than a desire to make money and the reward is much more gratifying.

To receive a letter like the following is rewarding to a degree money can not. Mrs. Urban Scott Levee (nee Pearl Ola Daniels) wrote, "I received Volumes I & 2 of the Daniels-Daniells Family Genealogy and am enjoying them very much. It is just like opening a door into another world - a world where one's kin have lived. People whom you belonged to - yet never knew.

"I only wish my father the late Everett S. Daniels was here - how he would have enjoyed it. Some of the things are as he once said - that he was of blue blood, yet he was never boastful"

A DANIELLS STARTED GROWING ORANGES In Tulare Co. Calif. Among First

In 1903 Ernest Lemon Daniells moved from Leadville, Colo. to California. He is the father of Alva Adams Daniells of Lindsay, Calif. (see page 58 of Vol. 1)

The Los Angeles Times, Sun. Feb. 1, 1959 carried an article a part of which pertained to Mr. Daniells and his farm.

"Alva Daniells of Lindsay is concentrating on two (crops) - Oranges and Olives.

Daniells has a 30-acre grove a mile or so northeast of Lindsay at the exact spot where the toe of the Sierra Nevada foothills meets the valley. Twenty acres are in Valencias and the remainder in manzanillo olives, the kind that shows up in salads and relishes.

"Daniells' property rises on a gentle hillside. Midway up it is bisected by the Friant-Kern Canal, the concrete-lined river that carries water from Friant Dam in Fresno County to farmers and ranchers in Madera, Tulare and Kern Counties.

"Daniells is president of the Friant Water Users Ass'n. a group of 17 irirgation districts that use the water, and a director of the Lindsay Co-operative Citrus Assn.

"This is the center of the valley's orange producing area, you know," he explained. "It extends nearly 50 miles from southern Fresno County to Terra Bella, south of here. But you'd be surprised how many of our growers moved up here from Los Angeles and Orange Counties. Subdivisions squeezed them out."

"Set in the center of Daniells' grove is a two-story yellow frome house.

"It was built by his father, Ernest Daniells, when he moved his family to the valley from Colorado in 1903.

"There weren't many groves here then," Daniells explained. "It was wheat country.

"When Dad decided to put in oranges, the other growers just shook their heads.

"Now look at this country - - - ".

WILLIAM EDWARD DANIELS of Penna., Michigan and Ohio

Perhaps someone can fill in some of the missing data on this Daniels family group. WHO were the PARENTS of William Edward and his brother Calvin Daniels? Were there other brothers and sisters?

WILLIAM EDWARD DANIELS, b. ? (probably between 1840 and 45). He had a brother Calvin whom he spoke of seeing the last time on one of the battlefields of the Civil War. William Edward enlisted in the Union Army from Mich. or Ohio in 1861. He was with Gen. Sherman in the famous march from Atlanta to the Sea. He was in the Battles of Gettysburg and Shilo. He left the state of Penna. as a young man going to Mich. and later Ohio. In Ohio he married a _____ Clark. To this marriage was born:-

1. Sophie, b. abt. 1868, mar. George Hachet (nothing further is known).
2. Adelbert, b. abt. 1870, mar. Mayme Schoabe. Issue:- (1) Mina, (2) Adelbert, Jr. (Nothing further is known of this family)
3. Dorie, b. abt. 1872, mar. _____ Norman. They had a large family of which nothing further is known.

After the death of the mother of the above named children the father married 2nd Anne Ryan. The date of this 2nd marriage was abt. 1873 or 74. The had issue:-

1. Harry, b. abt. 1876, d. No issue.
2. Frank Edward, b. Sept. 17, 1878 at Castalia, Ohio, mar. Jan. 18, 1925 to ___ Lux. They had issue:-

A FEW OF THE MANY COMMENTS RECEIVED ABOUT VOL. 2 OF THE DANIELS - DANIELLS FAMILY GENEALOGY

Mr. Corban Goble, Ky. writes, "I want to take time to write you about the new Daniels family genealogy. It is an excellent volume and will be kept and inspected with pleasure. My mother, who lives in Berea also is reading it now. You and your wife are to be congratulated on your fine work."

Mrs. John E. Daniells, Mich. writes, "The books arrived ———— the edition was well worth waiting for and I am amazed at the contents. You deserve a gold medal. I hope everyone who reads it has some idea of the magnitude of the work you have done - the reasearch - putting it together etc. I am very proud to have had a very small part in helping and do thank you for the tribute paid in the preface."

Mr. Alva A. Daniells, Calif. writes, "Regarding the second volume of the Daniels-Daniells Family. I was utterly amazed at the size of this new volume, especially when I discovered that it was all new material. I suppose by now you have received additional data not contained in either of the two volumes. - - - - - - - - - - - - - The narrative by Olive Bell Daniels is most interesting - it was a smart move including that. It must have required a large amount of research to compile all the information found in the story.

These are but a few of the many comments received from the proud possessors of Vol. 2 of "The Daniels-Daniells Family", A Genealogical History you to will want to possess if you haven't a copy. This book along with Vol. 1 published in 1952 give very largely the genealogical history of the descendants of William Daniell of Dorchester and Milton, Mass. 1630 to 1957.

ABOUT THE FASCINATING 512 PAGE BOOK

THE DANIELS - DANIELLS FAMILY, VOL. 2

HISTORY AND GENEALOGY

IT IS FASCINATING !

IT IS UNUSUAL !

IT IS WONDERFUL !

IT'S GREAT.

That is the way so many of the family have described this Second Volume of the family history. You will say the same thing once you become the proud owner of a copy. YOU are indeed most fortunate, to have available to you a family history of your Daniels forebears. It is a rare priviledge for a family to have in print a Genealogical History. Hundreds of people would gladly give a hundred dollars or more, to have what you can have for only a few dollars. You will want one copy for yourself and for posterity perhaps one each for the children or grandchildren. Why not, they'll love you and long remember you for being so thoughful of them.

SOME OF THE COMMENTS RECEIVED

"I wish to congratulate you and all concerned on its production. It is well bound, the paper - type - ink and printing are excellent. - - - - - - - - - - - - I do not remember ever during my life of 87 years (so far) seeing a genealogy composed in this style." - Estee S. Daniells, London, England

"I want to thank you for the second addition to the masterpiece you have written. I am sure none of us know the time, effort and expense this second volume has required and few can really, fully appreciate it for that reason. But for the most part, one has only to glance through it to realize how wonderfully it is written, and what a source of information it is to the family. I am just real proud to have it and I surely do thank you for it." - Mrs. Burma Daniels Leavens, Ind.

"I was utterly amazed at the size of this new volume, especially when I discovered that it was all new material." - Alva A. Daniells, Calif.

A FAMILY HISTORY HAS A GREAT MANY USES

Here is how one young man in public school found good use of the first published volume on the Daniels family, as told by his mother.

"Last winter Paul had to write several pages of a theme about his family ancestors. So he and I together made quite a study of the book. He used the most interesting facts telling of the origin, the Crest, Motto and tracing the family to his own grandfather and mother. He got an "A" on it and several written comments from his teacher who found it very interesting. He closed his theme giving the name of the book, author and publisher and saying that the second volume would soon be off the press.

"He had the longest and best theme in the class. Most of the kids had no information beyond their grandparents."

WHAT DO YOUR CHILDREN KNOW ABOUT THEIR DANIELS ANCESTORS ?

WHAT WILL YOUR GRAND CHILDREN KNOW ?

It will thrill you, it will thrill your children to read and learn about the LIFE and TIMES of your DANIELS PIONEER FOREFATHERS. You will never have a better opportunity than right now, to give your children and their children this WONDERFUL HERITAGE. Order now, The Daniels - Daniells Family in Two Volumes.

Vol. 1, is a 264 page book, while Vol. 2, has 512 pages. Both are cloth bound and fully indexed, printed on the very best of paper and the genealogical pattern followed is very simple, thus making it very easy for anyone to trace their family line back to the immigrant ancestor, William Daniell of Dorchester, Mass.

IN VOL. I WILL BE FOUND THE FOLLOWING OF INTEREST TO ALL

This has been a question that up until now the answer has been quite varied and some who have been very loud in the affirmative. Others while seemingly glad to receive The Notes, neither contribute material nor subscribe. So what shall we do?

No one is making any money putting it out. It is purely a "labor of love" and the printing costs are more than the subscriptions have ever covered. It has been fun and interesting and there is still much old and new Daniels material that can be printed. So what shall we do??

Here is what we wish you would do to let us know your wishes in the matter. MAIL THE ENCLOSED CARD. If you want "The Family Notes" to continue and will subscribe for 1960 check it in the card. SEND NO MONEY NOW. We will bill you with the first issue of 1960.

Unless there are enough subscribers to warrent continuing "The Notes" we shall turn all of our spare time for genealogy toward a future publication on "The Symons-Simons Family". This is another old American family beginning in this country with Thomas Symons, b. 1607 in England and coming to America in 1634 at Jamestown, Va. Anyone having Symons ancestry (also spelled Simons) please contact the editor.

JOHN DANIELS of NEW LONDON, CONN.
(b. 16??, d. 1709) and Descendants

In the Nov. '56, Feb. '57 and May '57 issues of "The Family Notes" there appeared a genealogical history of some of the descendants of this man and his wife, Mary Chappell. This material was furnished largely by Mr. Clark E. Daniels, 409 West Fourth St. Attumwa, Iowa. Since then Mr. Daniels has published privately and in a very limited number a Genealogy of this family. He has just recently celebrated his 92nd birthday.

More and more descendants of John Daniels of New London keep turning up. We have had correspondance with John Daniels 3rd, and wife, Mary _____, who had children:- (1) Ezekiel, b. 27 Dec. 1708, (2) Peter, b. 27 Dec. 1710, (3) Lucy, b. 28 June 1713, (4) Hester, b. 4 Aug. 1715, (5) John, b. abt. 1718, (6) Noah, b. abt. 1720, (7) Daniel, b. 1726 (or 27), (8) Lucretia. (Source of Inf. about above children, Col. Parkhurst's Manuscripts, Org. papers in New London, Conn. Public Library).

Descendants of the above Ezekiel Daniels and wife, Elizabeth Crocker, for many generations lived in Waddington, N.Y area. Mr. Fred Allen Daniels, Waitsfield Vt. and a desc. was living in 1950.

Descendants of (7) Daniel, b. 1726 or 27 and youngest son of John Daniels, 3rd have come to light with considerable data. The material on this branch was furnished by Mrs. Margaret Speed Daniels, widow of the late Wylie Johnston Daniels and life long resident of Indianapolis, Ind. (Cont on page 6).

Catherine Daniells, b. Dec. 10, 1833 (no death date)
Willard Daniells, b. Feb. 2, 1800
Died August 1, 1873

To the left of the monument is a headstone carved with the word, "Father" and the footstone has "W. D." carved on it. To the right of the monument is a space probably left for Catherine. To the right of the space left for Catherine are the two graves of the children, "William W." and "Nelson" with headstones so carved. The dau. Sarah and the mother Catherine it would appear are not buried here. This would indicate that while there was earlier plans for William Willard Daniells (b. 1800, d. 1873) to be buried at Crooks Cem. Troy, Mich. beside his 2nd wife, he was not. Even though there is a monument in the Crooks Cem. with Wm. Willard's name on it, the evidence is to strong to the contrary. According to Obituaries for Harriett C. Daniells the cemetery lot and monument in Crooks Cem. was selected and placedthere about 1850 before her divorce from William Willard.

THE LATER YEARS IN THE LIFE OF SARAH (Sally) DANIELS WARNER
(b. May 30, 1807, Alexandria, N.H., d. Oct. 23, 1892, Calif)

Sarah (Sally) Daniels was the eldest child of Seth and Hannah (Martin) Daniels. Her first marriage was to a first cousin John Daniels and 2nd marriage to Aaron K. Warner. See pages 39, 40, 64, 112 of Vol. 1, Daniels Family and page 333 of Vol. 2 for details about her early life, marriages and children.

The following excerts are taken from an article and her Obituary which appeared in the Baptist Young Peoples Union, a Baptist publication at Oakland, Calif. at the time of her death in 1892.

"In East Oakland, on Sunday 23, Mrs. Sarah Warner was suddenly called to her eternal home. She was a native of New Hampshire, and the natural beauties of the granite state seemed to have stamped their impress upon her ardent nature.

"She lived for many years in the Western states but in January 1853 she crossed the isthmus and entered the Golden Gate. At the time of her death she was 85 years and 5 months of age and had been a resident of East Oakland since 1857 - 35 years.

"She was much troubled to see the desecration of the Sabbath (Sunday is meant) by the Spanish and American people in early days, especially the "bear and bull fights" on Sunday led her to believe that God had a work for her to do in raising the Master's banner in this wicked town.

"With the assistance of her husband and the school teacher, Miss Lizzie Brown, she started a prayer meeting in her front room, and shortly afterward Sabbath evening services were held in the little school house. Rev. J.D. Saxton conducted the services. Thus/a Baptist church was started by two members of a Methodist church and one a Presbyterian.

"Mrs. Warner was the first person immersed in the bay at the foot of Tenth Ave.,- a spot over which the cars now run, on Oct. 16, 1859. In taking care of an invalid for a year Mrs. Warner had earned $ 300 with which she bought a block of land and cheerfully gave the corner where the Tenth Ave. Baptist church now (in 1892) stands for a church site. (Continued on page 6)

"She was the mother of nine children. Four of her sons were in the Union army. One of them was in forty-two battles without receiving a wound (This was Harrison C. Daniels). Each day at the noon hour during the war, this faithful mother went by herself to pray for her "poor boys" and they were all spared to her, and all became Christians. Two afterwards preached the gospel of Christ.To one of them she once said: "Well, my son, it was in answer to your mother's prayers that you were spared."

- From Her Obituary -

"In losing her the Tenth Ave. church lost the last of its charter members. Through her instrumentality largely the church was organized more than thirty years ago (this was 1892). and through the same instrumentality largely it has prospered. - - - - - For twenty-five years she did not miss a prayer meeting in it. Whenever the doors of her church were opened she was to be found there.

"She was a Baptist in the divinest sense, and for that reason her fellowship extended to every Christian who loved her Lord.

"Her religion was pre-eminently healthy. It wasn't a prescription for dying well, but an inspiration for living and having lived a saint of necessity she died a saint. Deeply spiritual in her own life she was not to be misled by a false assumption of spirituality. Her eye pierced straight through hypocrisy but she took no delight in its discovery. The slightest discord pained her almost beyond endurance. What a rare sweet soul she was". The Obituary was written by her Pastor, Frank Dixon.
